Nine Persons in Plane Die in Rainstorm Crash

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Nine persons were killed today when their twin-engine plane crashed in a rainstorm with a "terrific jar and terrible explosion" on an Indiana farm across the river from Louisville, Ky.

The Lockheed plane owned by the Crane Plumbing Co. of Chicago was carrying executives of the firm to a plumbing and heating convention in Louisville.

The craft was only a few minutes away from Sandidford Field in Louisville when it nosed down, witnesses said, and crashed into the muddy field at a 45 degree angle.

State and Jeffersonville police had recovered nine bodies from the wreckage which was spread over a 100 yard area in a semi-swamp area.

State police first identified one body as that of Charles E. Toner of Chicago.

State police later made these other identifications: Rany Mulkey, the pilot; J. A. Murray, J. A. Dreyer, George W. Irwin and G. G. Windholm, all of Chicago.

The pilot talked with Sandidford field in Louisville at 10:34 a. m. CDT, and 11 minutes later the plane fell to the ground.

Mrs. Nancy Montz, who lived 300 yards from where the plane crashed into a tree and then buried itself in the mud against a fence, said she saw the plane start to fall. Other witnesses said it hit with a "terrific jar and terrible explosion" heard over a wide area.

Presbyterians to Observe 250 Year

Members of the Presbyterian church throughout America will this month celebrate the 250th Anniversary of the founding of the first Presbytery in the United States.

The General Assemblies of both the northern and southern branches of the Church are cooperating in the celebration of this event.

The first Presbytery in America was organized in Philadelphia in the year 1708, although Presbyterian services had been held in that city as early as 1692. By 1693 Presbyterians and Baptists were well established in Philadelphia and were meeting on alternate Sundays in a store building on what is now the corner of Chestnut and Second Streets.

The northern Presbyterians have selected Philadelphia as the meeting place for their 1956 General Assembly, and the annual session of that body will convene on May 14th.

Special services to observe the 250th Anniversary of the establishment of the first Presbytery in America will be held on May 24th and 25th, with the Southern Church participating, Rev. J. McDowell Richards, Moderator of the Southern Presbyterian Church, will attend and, acting in accordance with the mandate of his General Assembly, Dr. Richards has approved the designation of delegates to the event from each of the Southern synods.

Judge James H. Pilkinton of Hope will represent the Synod of Arkansas in Philadelphia for the occasion.

By coincidence the 1956 General Assemblies of the two Churches were originally scheduled for an identical week in May but the date of the General Assembly meeting of the Southern Church was changed in order that its Moderator and other delegates might be able to attend the 250th Anniversary observance in Philadelphia.

May Get Name on Your False Teeth

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — If a Virginia medical examiner's suggestion is followed, you'll be getting your name on your false teeth.

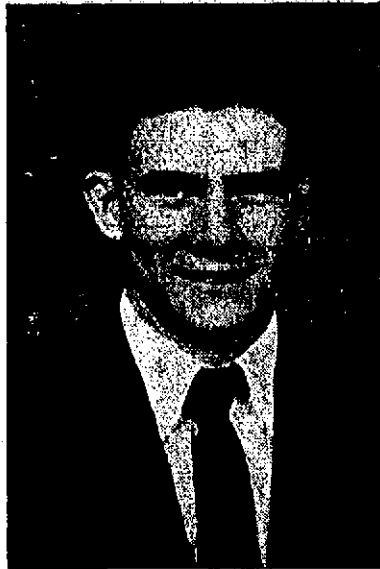

He says dentists should be persuaded to inscribe the wearer's name inside the upper plate. (While the monogrammed choppers obviously would be a help to the absent-minded, Dr. Harold Beddoe has another Speaking at the third annual Southwestern Homicide Investigators Seminar yesterday, the assistant state medical examiner of Virginia pointed out the help it would provide to officers in identifying victims. He said teeth are seldom destroyed when a body is burned or decomposed.

"The individuality of dentures is such that it would be pretty far-fetched to think they would belong to someone else," he added. "It would be a wonderful thing if dentists over the country followed this practice."

Harriman Picks Up Support in Wyoming

By The Associated Press

Nebraska residents vote today in a primary election that assures presidential preference victories for President Eisenhower and Sen. Estes Kefauver.

In Wyoming, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York picked up support for the Democratic presidential nomination, which he says he is not actively seeking.

President Eisenhower is unopposed in the Nebraska GOP presidential preference balloting and Kefauver had the field to himself on the Democratic side. Write-in votes are permitted, but no organized appeal has been made for them.

Any rural dissatisfaction with administration farm policies appear in a marked way today from the usual 2-1 Republican margin in recent primaries, but even Sen. Kefauver's supporters said they expect no such results.

The preference voting is not binding on the 18 Republican and 12 Democratic convention delegates to be selected.

Actress Gets Tired of Playing the Girl Next Door, Wants to Play a 'Bad Girl' Part

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — True angels may never become weary artists.

But actresses who play angelic roles do sometimes get good and sick of them. One of them right now is Martha Scott, who is suffering from a bad case of too much sweetness and light.

Martha has been wearing wings on stage and screen for some years now, and she'd like to shed them for a while.

I have known Miss Scott from the time she was a schoolgirl studying biology in Kansas City—book biology, that is. When I met her for lunch the other day I told her, "Martha, you're still just as pretty as the girl next door."

Well, I meant it as a compliment, and a true one. Martha has a fragile beauty that never fades.

Segregationists Called in to Map Strategy

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — At the invitation of Gov. Orval Faubus, about 125 segregationists are expected to meet here tomorrow to map a campaign for two proposals aimed at blocking racial integration in Arkansas.

Gov. Faubus said representatives of nearly all of Arkansas' 75 counties have been invited.

The governor's letter of invitation asked the segregationists to "bring the letter with you as your authority for admission to a speaking."

A spokesman for the governor's office said the meeting is not a mass gathering, but is directed solely toward setting up an organization for circulating petitions.

The two measures backed by the governor deal with an interposition resolution and a school assignment plan.

Interposition is a theory that states have the power to interpose their rights and overturn federal rulings, such as the U. S. Supreme Court integration decree. Under the school assignment plan, school authorities would be empowered to assign individual children to specific schools. Both are seen by segregationists as a means of preserving racial segregation.

Court Changes Mind, $90,000 Is the Stake

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — "Oh my God," said Raymond G. Cahill. "You mean they are going to take it away."

The 24-year-old railroad brakeman was talking about $90,000 he was awarded by a U. S. District Court jury for injuries received while working on the New Haven Railroad.

A reporter had just told Cahill that the U. S. Supreme Court, which upheld the award last fall, had reversed itself and sent the suit back to a U. S. circuit court.

The railroad already had paid Cahill the money, and he has spent a good part of it. "I'll be honest with you," he said. "I have three children, and I bought a piece of property and I'm building a nominally priced house on it, about $12,000."

"I paid all my bills, about $20,000, and I bought a station wagon. I haven't even bought a suit of clothes for myself."

As Cahill talked to the reporter on the telephone, a woman at his home started to sob in the background. "That's my wife," Cahill said. "I'll have to hang up now. I've been disappointed so many times, one of us has kind of got to keep from going to pieces."

The Supreme Court's decision yesterday was 5-4. Last fall it was 5-4 in upholding Cahill's award.

The justice who changed his mind and swung the court the other way yesterday was Sherman Minton.

Opinion on Russia's Army Cutback

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George (D-Ga.) today cautiously described as a possibly encouraging development Russia's announcement it is slashing its armed forces by 1,200,000 men.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the announcement "ought not to be hastily dismissed without careful evaluation."

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said in a separate interview he favors a "wait and see" attitude until "we can determine if Russia is really sincere." Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) commented that "Russia again has seized the initiative." And Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said the Eisenhower administration had been outmaneuvered. All three serve on the Foreign Relations Committee.

The Russians said the announced cut of 1,200,000 men does not include 840,000 demobilized last year. And they added all the reduction will be in effect by next May 1.

Experimenting With a New Rose Here

Rose lovers will be interested in seeing Miriam's Climber, a new pink climbing rose for Arkansas, being grown this year for the first time in Hempstead County by Mrs. Lorraine B. Wylie, home demonstration agent, at 707 South Elm.

Mrs. Wylie is growing the rose for the University of Arkansas to test its adaptability to the climate in this section of Arkansas, its resistance to powdery mildew and black spot.

Miriam's Climber was bred by Dr. H. R. Rosen, Department of Botany, at the University of Arkansas in May, 1941, at the Main Experiment Station at Fayetteville, after a total of 615 crosses were made, using a native wild rose and a small bush hybrid tea rose.

Miriam's Climber is classified as a pink climber since pink is the prevalent color when the blossoms are open. However, the young opening buds are usually an apricot or peach color, which is gradually replaced by deep pink in the lower half of the petals (next to the receptacle) as the buds unfurl to fully open blossoms, and by light pink or shell pink in the upper part of the petals. A freshly opened blossom would probably be considered as peach-pink in color.

The coloring is much more pronounced than in New Dawn or in Dr. W. Van Fleet. The average open blossom is larger in size, often measuring 4 inches in diameter. It has a pronounced rose fragrance of the old hybrid tea Lady Margaret Stewart.

The medium to large ovoid bud gives rise to 30 or more curved petals. The blossoms are usually arranged in medium to large clusters of from 6 to 20 or more buds. The stems bearing single clusters are often a foot or more long. It has sufficient strength to hold blossoms upright, making it an attractive cut flower variety. However, as a cut flower, its blossoms last no longer than those of the average hybrid tea.

Probably due to the relatively large number of buds per cluster and the fact that the buds open at different times, the blooming period is usually prolonged usually from the middle of May to the middle of July. It is not a recurrent or "ever blooming" variety. However, it usually produces as many blossoms in its period of bloom as so-called "everblooming" varieties will produce throughout the growing season.

Mrs. Wylie invites anyone interested in seeing the rose to come by any day after 5 p. m.

By United Press

Three teen-age boys attacked their mothers with knife, axe, and rifle. One said he killed out of pity, another because he wanted the family car.

The two murders and attempted murder came to light last night. A step-father was also killed in the outbreak of juvenile violence.

At Galt, Calif., 17-year-old Francis Oscar Ritter told how he hacked his mother to death with an axe to "put her out of her misery" and shot his step-father to death.

In Chicago, John (Buck) McLerran, 15, stabbed his mother to death with a bread knife so he could steal the family car and run away from home.

Jimmy Roy Knight, 15, hit his stepmother in the head with a hammer shot her with a .22 caliber rifle, and then killed himself at Jarrell, Tex.

The California boy killer calmly told authorities that he packed his four younger brothers and step-brothers into the family car after the double murder two days ago.

He gave the children their fill of drive-in movies and popcorn, he said, and they "never had a better time in their lives."

Francis then surrendered, saying his stepfather, Francis John Jackson, 48, "hadn't let me have anything to eat for two days because I didn't feed some chickens he bought."

On Saturday morning, Jackson "grabbed me by the hair and threw me to the ground" in a chicken shed, the boy said. He said he shot his step-father with a shotgun and hacked him with an axe until he was sure he was dead.

Then he went to the house and hacked his 43-year-old mother to death as she slept, Francis told police. He said he thought she was suffering from cancer and wanted to "put her out of her misery."

In Chicago, John McKernan, 14, had been playing hooky from school. He went home yesterday and packed his clothes. When his mother came and scolded him about his truancy, he demanded the keys to the family car.

She refused and he stabbed her with a bread knife he had already wrapped in a towel. His mother, Mrs. Johnnie Louise McKernan, 39, screamed "no, no, Buck" before she died.

The boy drove off in the car, leaving his mother with the knife buried in her chest. He was captured a short time later and gave a verbal confession to police.

Mrs. Roy knight, 43, victim of yesterday's Jarrell attack, could give no explanation of why her step-son tried to kill her.

She said Jimmy Roy suddenly turned on her and hit her on the head with a tack hammer as he passed through her room. He promised to take her to a hospital, but instead got a gun and shot her in the left side.

The boy fired again after his fleeing step-mother and then turned the gun on himself. Mrs. Knight was reported in good condition.

Tornadoes Fail to Hit in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The U. S. Weather Bureau Office last night said there was a possibility of "locally damaging windstorms" in a triangular area bounded by an imaginary line from Fort Smith to Little Rock and thence to Texarkana.

Up to early today no storms had been reported. The alert expired at 6 a. m.

The alert was the second issued by the bureau yesterday. It warned that tornadoes might be in store for a narrow strip of west Arkansas running from Fort Smith south to near the southern border.

No tornadoes materialized although there were reports that tornado-like funnels had been sighted in the air. The danger period expired at 10 p. m.

Heavy rain fell in much of the state. It was accompanied by thunder and lightning.

Minor Flash Floods in Memphis Area

MEMPHIS (AP) — Heavy rain brought minor flash floods early today and more rain threatened to wash out tonight's Cotton Carnival opening.

No major damage was reported after the flood but for about an hour streets in low-lying sectors were under three feet of water. In some spots it was over the tops of stalled cars.

More than an inch of rain fell during a 6-hour period.

The Weather Bureau forecast showers and thunderstorms. The carnival, weather permitting, officially gets underway tonight when the royal barge, gaudily decked and flaring with light, ceases in from Mississippi River to a waterfront landing.

King Oscar Carr Jr., of Clarkdale, Miss., and Queen Clare Malory of Memphis will step ashore followed by their courts, to take over from Mayor Edmund Orgill.

About 70,000 to 100,000 spectators usually line the river bluffs and jam the waterfront area for the carnival kickoff.

Atomic Plant Blast Claims 2nd Victim

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (UP) — A non-nuclear explosion at a top-secret atomic plant claimed its second victim early today. A third man mangled by the blast was in critical condition.

Atomic Energy Commission officials said the three Union Carbide Nuclear Co. employees were standing about 30 feet from exploding drums of scrap zirconium, a little-known metal used in atomic reactor development projects.

A. L. Lyons, 27, of Oak Ridge, who lost his left leg and was severely burned by the explosion yesterday, died at 1 a. m. (EST). W. R. Stooksbury, 24, of Andersonville, burned over his entire body, died last night. The right arm of G. R. Myers, 27, also of Oak Ridge, was ripped off in the blast. His condition was unchanged.

Cut Won't Alter Russian Forces, Dulles Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today Russia's proposed armed forces cut would not appreciably alter Soviet military power. But he said the United States welcomes it insofar as it indicates a policy of abstaining from the use of violence in international relations.

The 1,200,000 men who are to be taken out of uniform, according to the Moscow announcement yesterday, may readily be put to making nuclear weapons, Dulles told a news conference.

The Kremlin announcement therefore does not provide a basis for reducing U. S. armed strength, he said.

Anyway, Dulles reminded, this country has cut its forces by more than nine million men since World War II—from a level of 12,300,000 to less than 3,000,000.

"The United States," Dulles said in a comment volunteered at the outset of his weekly meeting with reporters, "welcomes the Soviet announcement of its intention to reduce its armed forces by 1,200,000 men within the next year, if this proves to be evidence of an intent to forego the use of force in international affairs."

"However, the obvious explanation is the need for greater manpower in industry and agriculture."

Expanding this point in response to questions, Dulles said that the Soviets have been badly overextended because they have been trying to build up general industry, produce new weapons, cope with an agricultural crisis and develop a foreign-aid program.

The easiest place they could get it, he said, was in the manpower of their armed forces.

Dulles said that in fact he would rather have the Russians standing around doing guard duty than making atomic bombs.

In Congress, Sen. George (D-Ga.) said the U. S. Soviet announcement was "possibly encouraging."

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he felt the Soviet announcement "ought not to be hastily dismissed without careful evaluation."

George accepted last night President Eisenhower's invitation to work with the administration on expansion of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Dulles mentioned this at his news conference, saying it is a source of "great gratification." He said it should show all the world the great importance the United States attaches to this work.

Eden's Refusal Increases His Leadership

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden's firm refusal to tell Parliament all the facts about Britain's mission in Egypt today appeared to have increased his stature as Britain's leader.

A full-scale House of Commons debate on the case ended last night with the Labor opposition defeated 316-229 in a technical vote to censure Eden. He indicated clearly Britain's relations with the Kremlin might be damaged if he told more about the disappearance of retired naval Cmdr. Lionel (Buster) Crabbe.

Crabbe was last seen skimming in Portsmouth near the Soviet cruiser which brought Premier Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev to Britain. The British press and public — and the Russians — generally believe he was on a spy mission that went awry. Eden has said only that his mission was "without authority" and that none of the Cabinet knew about it.

The 87-vote majority with which the Conservatives beat back the Labor censure motion was one indication that Eden's stock has risen. Normally a Conservative command only about a 60 vote majority.

Russia Wants West to Follow 'Example'

By ROY ESSOYAN

MOSCOW (M) — Russia has told the world it will cut its armed forces by 1,200,000 men within the next year and challenged the Big Three Western Powers to follow the Soviet example.
The Soviet Union announced the trimming would involve 63 army divisions and three air divisions. It said the manpower would be diverted to industry and agriculture.

In addition, Russia said it would put 375 warships in mothballs and disband a number of military training schools. But Foreign Ministry press chief Leonid F. Ilyichev, who made the announcement, would not say how many men would be left in uniform after the cut.

The new cut apparently would bring the Soviet armed forces about to a level with those of the United States. The best figures available to the West credited the Soviet military with 4½ million men in 1955. Since then, it has reported 640,000 men demobilized. As of March 1 the United States had 2,850,000 in its armed forces.
In Washington, a White House spokesman said the Soviet move would have more significance if the Russians had been more cooperative at the London disarmament talks. The State Department viewed the move as a switch from military to economic methods of seeking world domination. Officials said there would be no matching reductions in U. S. military manpower.

The Moscow announcement had been anticipated in Western capitals since the breakup of the London disarmament conference 11 days ago.

"By undertaking these new reductions the Soviet government is striving to contribute to the practical carrying out of the disarmament program now under consideration in the United Nations," the announcement said.

"Other governments such as those of the United States, Britain and France wishing to contribute to the strengthening of peace cannot but follow this example."

"The Soviet government would be ready to consider a further reduction in case the United States, Britain and France carry out a proportionate reduction in their armed forces and armament," the statement continued, adding:

"The Soviet Union believes that carrying out such measures would be a way of achieving disarmament."

ment and would establish real premises for the prohibition of atomic and nuclear weapons."

The Kremlin statement said that the program shows the Soviet Union "is a sincere and constant champion of peace and relaxation of international tension."

The new demobilization program offers the Soviet Union twin benefits of relieving its tremendous manpower shortage in agriculture and industry and bringing heavy pressure on the Western Powers to reduce their armed forces.

Russia has announced its goal of overtaking the U. S. industrial potential with the next 10 to 15 years. Such a program will require all the manpower it can muster. Furthermore, Soviet agriculture has suffered severely from the drain of peasant youth into the armed forces.

Spring Planting Is on Schedule

LITTLE ROCK (M) — Spring planting in Arkansas is on schedule despite heavy rains, the federal-state Crop Reporting Service said today in its weekly report.

Cotton planting is almost completed in most major cotton counties, the service said. In several of cotton is only one-half to two-thirds completed.

Cotton at this time appears to range from far to good, the service said.

Seeding of rice was almost completed in some areas last week. The service noted Prairie and Ash-ley counties as localities where rice seeding is almost completed.

The service said additional strawberry pickers are needed particularly in the White County area where the harvest is at its peak.

The annual U. S. income tax collected from Delaware figures out to about $60,000 a square mile.

A basking shark may be more than 30 feet long.

White pelicans have a wingspread of about 100 inches.

DOROTHY DIX

Loyal to Scoundrel Dog In the Manger No Time for Family

Dear Dorothy Dix: My aunt is a kind, generous person, but not very intelligent. She was a handsome girl and had many good offers of marriage, but turned the worthy men down and married a scoundrel. Now, after 20 years of unhappiness with this man, she is living in conditions that are actually revolting. Yet her loyalty is so strong she won't divorce him or say anything against him.

I have a comfortable home and could take her with me for the rest of her life. However, neither my husband nor I will accept this uncle by marriage. I'm very close to this aunt, writing frequently and visiting quite often. I worry over the problem day and night.

PERPLEXED
Dear Perplexed: Your concern over your misguided aunt is worthy of praise, but really you are trying to assume too much responsibility for her. Apparently she's in love with her husband in spite of his distressing treatment. Obviously, unless she decides to do something to improve her condition, you can't step in and take over.

At this point, all you can do is keep up the correspondence and visiting, bringing a little cheer into her life. Send her a gift, from time to time, something you know she needs, wants or would like to have. Your kindness is the one spot in her life; just keep it up, and pray for her.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Howard and I dated quite a while and were, I thought, very much in love. However, he suddenly married another girl — why I don't know. He still tries to keep a hold on me, claims he loves me, and does his best to break up any incipient romance I may have. How can I put, and keep, him in his place? ALTA
Dear Alta: Don Juan doesn't give up easily, does he? Have you, maybe, a streaking fondness for being so irresistible?

Perhaps you aren't really trying to discourage Howard, even though his tenacity is costing you other boy friends. This is a dangerous game you two are playing, better recognize your respective positions and return to the starting line.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband works from 8:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. seven days a week. He doesn't get a vacation, holiday or day off. We have three children, and never get anywhere away from the house. The situation is getting me down, physically and mentally. Would talking to my husband's boss do any good?

BRENDA
Dear Brenda: This is a far cry from today's standard 40-hour week. Why does your husband work these hours, and what is his boss's business that he can get away with such schedules? Certainly part of it must be your husband's choice.

He'd better revise his program somewhat, before the whole family falls on its collective face.

Chicago World's Fair, she had enjoyed blackening her teeth to play one of the witches in "Macbeth." The sweetness-and-light blight descended on her when she first starred on Broadway as Emily Webb, the sweet doomed young heroine of Thornton Wilder's play, "Our Town."

It deepened when Hollywood starred her in "Miss Bishop," a sugary vehicle in which she played an old maid schoolteacher who used her back on Joe, forsaking a birds-and-bees adventure for a life of service among the ab's. Strangers who meet her still exclaim in pleased surprise, "Why, it's Miss Bishop."

"This makes Martha want to say a bad word."

"How would you like it, if every time you stepped in a taxi, the driver called you Miss Bishop?" she asked.

Frankly the thought never had occurred to me.

Many performers don't mind being typed at all. They can enjoy a lazy, financially secure life, playing variations of the same role over and over.

Not Miss Scott, who is a skilled and talented craftsman, she said. "Money isn't security," she said. "You have to figure out what you really want to do with your few hours on earth, and it does come down to a matter of hours—even minutes."

"How can an actress grow in her trade unless she plays a variety of roles that demand more and more from her? The trouble is that producers sometimes are afraid to take a chance. They're afraid the public might not like you in a new role."

But Martha is more than willing to take chances. Just recently she has been, in her latest picture, "The Ten Commandments," she plays Moses' mother.

In a recent Robert Montgomery TV show she strayed even further from her own real life character. She portrayed the self-centered, plantation owner, who destroyed the lives of all those around her. "I never had more fun," said Martha, smiling.

The results were satisfying, too. Startled producers flooded her with three big TV bids, a Broadway play offer, and two invitations to do movies. She feels that at last she's on the way to getting rid of the "goody-goody" label roles.

If you should bump into Martha accidentally, she won't mind at all if you mistake her for either Mar-

Richards Buys Two Discards From Brooklyn

BALTIMORE (AP)—Manager Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles, who sometimes shifts his playing personnel as frequently as a deck of cards in a gambling casino, yesterday took a chance on two discarded pitchers.

In a move akin to drawing for an inside straight in poker, Richards purchased two arm Billy Lee from the Brooklyn Dodgers and veteran Johnny Schmitz from the Boston Red Sox.

Lee, who compiled a 10-1 record with the world champions last year, is only 26. But the eccentric right-hander has been sidelined most of this season with a sore shoulder muscle, diagnosed as arthritis.

In his appearance, he gave up six runs and five hits to the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1 1/3 innings. In practice, since then observers said he "didn't have a thing." He had a 50-26 record with Brooklyn for 1952 seasons.

The 35-year-old left-hander had a 7-10 record for the last 1/2 place Washington Senators last season. No prices were disclosed, but the Orioles were believed to have paid about $20,000 for Lee and about $10,000 for Schmitz.

Richards, in Kansas City with the Orioles on a road trip, said he didn't know too much about Lee but observed:

"He's never had a losing year since he's been in baseball so I'm willing to gamble on him. I know his arm has been sore, but he's still young enough to recover."

As for Schmitz, who is slated for spot duty, Richards said, "I'm probably the only one who thinks that guy can still pitch, but I feel like he's still a pretty good man and might be able to help us."

TECH INVITED
RUSSELLVILLE (AP)—The Arkansas Tech basketball team has been invited to play in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tip-off tournament at Omaha Dec. 27-29.

Purpose of the event will be to determine top-seeded teams for the NAIA tournament early next year.

The justice at the same time criticized some amateur athletic officials.

Calhoun in First Round Knockout

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley Goldman feels confident he'll have another champion to work with in another year in middleweight Rory Calhoun.

The tiny trainer of retired heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano believes he has the perfect candidate for new honors in the the solidly built, 21-year-old from White Plains, N. Y.

"Another year ought to do it," said Calhoun after Rory blasted out ready Randy Sandy in 2:46 of the first round of a telecast bout at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

"Rory's a hard worker and leans fast."

It was the 21st straight victory and 11th knockout for the undefeated youngster, a pro only 20 months.

Getting the proper opponents is the major task for the brain trust of Goldman and manager Frank Bachman.

"We feel he's ready for anyone in the top 10 now," said Bachman. "I'm afraid though that some of those ranking fighters think he's too ready."

Calhoun worked fast in making Sandy his fifth victim of the year. His first punch to the head—a flashing right—caught the 23-year-old New Yorker flush on the jaw and dropped him. He bounced up at two and stood for the mandatory count.

Right-hand bows to the jaw felled Sandy twice more for a total of three knockdowns in the round. After the third, Referee Ray Miller immediately waved his arms, signaling the technical knockout. Under New York rules, three knockdowns in a round and you're out.

Giants Order Shakeup for Game Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Mystified at the sad state of affairs on his team, rookie manager Bill Rigney of the New York Giants ordered a "semi-shakeup" treatment for today's game with the Chicago Cubs.

Rigney is convinced the Giants are not a sixth-place team. He's equally convinced that Willie Mays is not a .209 hitter.

The shakeup system was popularized by Yoco Durocher, Rigney's predecessor. When the club wasn't going well, Durocher pulled all stops and shuffled the players around willy-nilly.

Rigney doesn't want to go to that extreme, so he is concentrating on the batting order for the moment. Al Dark (0-for-13) is the new leadoff man, and Whitey Lockman (1-for-22) drops to No. 7. Don Mueller is No. 2.

"Maybe Mueller will get on base ahead of Mays," said Rigney. "and Willie will knock him in."

On the subject of Mays, who has just one hit in his last 14 trips to the plate, Rigney is hopeful that he is about to snap out of his slump.

"And if he does what I hope he will, the hits ought to start coming right away," said Rigney. "He's got to start hitting to right field, and I had him take advantage of our day off yesterday by working out. He's been trying to pull everything into the left field seats."

Barons Walk in Run to Beat the Vols

By The Associated Press

Foxy Fritz Brickell, whose dad was once a big man in the Pittsburgh Pirate outfield, was the darling of Birmingham baseball fandom today without so much as swinging a bat.

The 5-foot-6, 152-pound youngster squirmed his way to a base on balls in the bottom of the ninth inning last night with the bases loaded to give the Barons a 2-1 victory over Nashville. The rookie shortstop's walk stretched Birmingham's Southern Association lead to 2 1/2 games over the floundering Memphis Chicks, who lost to Mobile 11-5.

Third-place Atlanta stayed 4 1/2 games off the pace by defeating Chattanooga 4-1. Little Rock trounced New Orleans 10-4, hanging the sixth straight loss on the skidding Pelicans.

Nobody had scored since the third inning at Birmingham when Brickell faced Nashville reliever Cal Howe, how had just replaced Vol starter Roy Pardue. Howe threw three wide ones, found the plate with his next two pitches, and then walked in the winning run. Brickell swung at none of the six pitches.

Memphis pitching, which turned sour on the current road trip, hit bottom in the loss to Mobile. The Bears, who climbed into the first division with their victory, rapped 13 hits and drew 11 bases on balls from four Chick hurlers.

Mobile first baseman Gordon Coleman led the Bruin assault with a triple and two singles. Gip Dickens, the league's leading hitter, homered for the Chicks.

Righthander Dick Grabowski posted his fifth victory as Atlanta continued its mastery of Chattanooga in Ponce De Leon Park. In seven seasons, the Crackers have won 51 of 67 games in Atlanta from the Lookouts.

Two New Orleans errors helped Little Rock to five unearned runs in the fifth inning. The Travelers added three in the ninth off lefty five were sufficient to make rookie Ennie Yuchim, but the tainted five were sufficient to make rookie George Witt the loser. Veteran Marvin Stuart, who rescued traveler starter Chuck Fowler in the fifth and restricted New Orleans to one run in 4 2/3 innings, was the winner. Eric Rodin homered for Little Rock.

Court Okays Riales' Job as Auditor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Sen. Roy Riales' job as auditor for the Arkansas Burial Association was sanctioned today by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Stating that Riales' position is not a public office, the Supreme Court upheld a decision of Pulaski Chancery Court, 1st Division.

The suit was brought by Rep. Roy M. Haynes of Polk County. Haynes contended that Riales' presence in the auditor's position violated Arkansas' constitution, which provides "no senator or representative shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be appointed or elected to any civil office under this state."

The Supreme Court opinion, written by chief Justice Lee Seamer, offered several definitions of public office. Quoting a

Every Star Has His Ups and Downs

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"The same thing happens to all performers. First you're up, then you're down, then you're up again. It all goes in cycles."

This was Red Skelton explaining his renaissance in the last year. His Tuesday night TV show, which had been in the doldrums, once again ascended into the top ranks in the audience ratings. Now he's making his first movie in four years—"Public Pigeon No. 1."

You can see the results in Red's expansive kisser. He's less frantic. He exudes the warm glow of success. But he can be just as hilarious as ever.

"How can you say I ain't been workin' in pictures?" he demands. "After all, I had a day's work in 'Around the World in 80 Days.' 'I will admit this is my first big part since I left MGM. Boy, that last one was some picture! It was the only movie in history that hissed the audience for being so stupid as to pay money for it. They were afraid to play it at the Grauman's Chinese—afraid the footprints would walk out."

How does he explain the upswing of his TV show? "Aside from the fact that stars' careers go in cycles, he cited: 'This year we have two swell sponsors that are dignified and that do not interfere with the previous Supreme Court decision, the opinion said:

"A position is a public office when it is created by law, with duties cast on the incumbent which involve some portion of the sovereign power and in the performance of which the public is concerned, and which also are continuing in their nature and not occasional or intermittent."

The Supreme Court opinion added that the 1953 act which created the Arkansas Burial Association does not set out the term of auditors or the duties of the position.

"The Burial Association Board is merely authorized to employ and fix the duties and salaries of the auditors," said the Supreme Court. "This is to be done by contract or agreement and may be discontinued at the pleasure of the board."

"This act does not make the position of auditor a civil office, but rather an employment subject to the authority of the Burial Association Board."

In his suit, Haynes said Riales' annual salary from the Burial Association Board is $8,000.

Miss Mary Buchanan
Complimented

On Thursday evening Miss Mary Buchanan, bride elect of Pvt. Bobby McBrayer, was complimented with a linen shower given by Misses Genevieve King, Freddie Mosberg, Mary Nell Bolls and Betty Ann Erskine in the home of the former.

Arrangements of roses were placed at vantage points in the party show. Both those factors mean a lot.

"What ruined me was too much interference. I always had to fit somebody else's idea of what I should be like. They had me playing every skit as Willie Lumpkin."

CBS has more than passing interest in the picture. The network has a 5 per cent interest in it (Red has 35 per cent), making the closest connection of a network with a theatrical film.

rooms. Miss Buchanan received a corsage of white carnations.

Appropriate games were played with the prize being won Norma Renfro after which the honoree was presented her lovely gifts.

The twenty guests were invited into the dining room where the table was spread with a white linen cloth. Lighted white tapers in silver candelabra flanked a silver bowl filled with white blossoms intermingled with white mallow bows. Matching arrangements adorned the buffet. Miss Erskine presided at the punch bowl and the white individual cakes decorated in green were served by Miss Bolls.

NEW YORK (AP)—Gambler Frank Costello is behind bars again, this time under a 5-year sentence for federal income tax evasion.

Costello, 65, surrendered at the U. S. Marshal's office yesterday after losing in last-minute legal maneuvers to get his sentence suspended or reduced.

His surrender automatically canceled the $30,000 bail under which he had been free during lengthy appeals as high as the U. S. Supreme Court.

Three More Enter the Preakness

BALTIMORE (UP) —The probable field for Saturday's $100,000 Preakness Stakes gained three more, candidates today, including a Virginia-bred "dark horse" who never has won a stake race.

Langollen farm's As sorted earns a definite starting berth in the weekend triple crown classic yesterday when he ran away from four rivals in the Preakness prep.

Not previously regarded as a Preakness starter, Assorted won the mile and one-sixteenth tuneup so convincingly that Trainer Oscar Mackey announced he will give the son of Endeavour II a crack at favored Needles and company Si-rudy.

It also was announced that Ra-theram and Fleet Feet, both owned by Harvey C. Fruehauf, will run an entry. Both colts arrived at Pimlico yesterday from Kentucky.

Need Someone to Conduct Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, said yesterday the Chicago Tribune had decided not to conduct the poll of fans to determine starting teams for the annual All Star game.

Frick said baseball was anxious to continue selection of the teams by popular vote and plans were under way to set up a new machinery for the purpose.

DOG REPELLANT
WASHINGTON, — (UP) — So many postmen have been bitten by dogs in the past year that the Postoffice Department is looking for "an effective dog repellent" for letter carriers and toying with the idea of padding the legs of postmen's pants.

NOT YET
MARIANNA (AP) — Pupils at Marianna elementary school recently took home health record sheets to be filled out by their parents.

One came back as follows:
Measles—yes.
Chickenpox—yes.
Mumps—yes.
Others—hasn't had it.

In the prep, assorted charged to the wire two and one-quarter lengths ahead of Ricci Tavi. It was the first victory of the year for the dark brown colt, who had won only two allowance tests in nine outings last year.

Ricci Tavi also is expected to join the Preakness field but, Invicto, who finished last in the prep, now must be considered a ful starter.

The other likely rivals for Needles in Saturday's classic include Fabius, Count Chic, No Regrets, Come On Red, Eiffel Blue and Golf Ace.

Little League Players Picked in Auction

The annual Little League auction was held last night at City Hall with managers selecting the following players to fill rosters left by graduating 12 year olds.
Each team is allowed only 5 twelve year olds, 5 eleven year olds and 5 eight, nine and ten year olds.
Players listed should contact their managers immediately as play begins on May 22. Players not listed who tried out last week will be listed later in the week on minor league teams. Every boy will definitely get an opportunity to play baseball.

Lemon Comes Through, Indians Beat Yankees

By E DWILKS
Of the Associated Press

Last season you had to give odds to bet Bob Lemon wouldn't pitch a complete game. Now the big guy has gone the distance five straight times for the Cleveland Indians and has won 'em all — including two in a row over the suddenly not-so-worried New York Yankees.

Lemon, troubled by a bum leg, had only five complete games all last season, although he won 18, and his last was on Memorial Day.
This spring, it looked like more of the same when the veteran right-hander lasted only seven innings while losing to Chicago 2-1 opening day. It was the 21st consecutive time he had failed to finish.

He hasn't been shelled—or beaten—since, wrapping up Detroit twice, Baltimore once and then Lively and Ronnie Phillips.

Yesterday at Legion Field, the Big League All-Stars fell victim to Nashville in a close 5 to 4 game.
Wayne Johnson hit a grand slam home run in the bottom of the 5th to give Hope a 4 to 3 lead but the Nashville boys picked up 2 more in the sixth for the win. Hope, since losing a week's practice due to rain has not been able to regain top hitting form. Hill was Nashville's winning pitcher. The Hope team travels to Lafayette county today for a game with the Lafayette County All-Stars.

beating the Yanks in the rubber game of a three-game set last Thursday.

Last night, he set the Yankees down on three hits for a 3-2 victory. Al Smith poked a lead-off home in the ninth to hoist the Indians into the American League lead.

It was the only game scheduled in the majors Monday. The Tribe made it their sixth triumph in the last seven games. They gained a 10 percentage-point edge on New York, which has lost four of six.

Lemon made only two mistakes last night. In the fourth inning Gil McDougal and Mickey Mantle powered back-to-back home runs for a short-lived 2-1 Yankee lead.
The only other hit off the 35-year-old Lemon, who struck out five and walked three, was a fifth-inning single by Elston Howard.

The Indians had almost as much trouble against young Johnny Kucks as the Yanks had with Lemon. The 22-year-old right-hander had done right well with a five-hitter until Smith, who almost didn't start because of a sore leg, tagged the big blow in the ninth.
It was Smith's lone hit.

New Kiln Arrives at IDEAL'S Arkansas Plant—

Will DOUBLE PORTLAND CEMENT PRODUCTION

Plant Capacity Increased by New Installation from 1,478,000 to 2,956,000 Barrels of Cement Annually!

In spite of the tremendous shortage of cement production equipment, a foresighted order by Ideal months ago brings a new kiln, new mills, and other necessary / equipment to Ideal's Arkansas Plant.

A BRAND NEW PLANT FOR ARKANSAS!

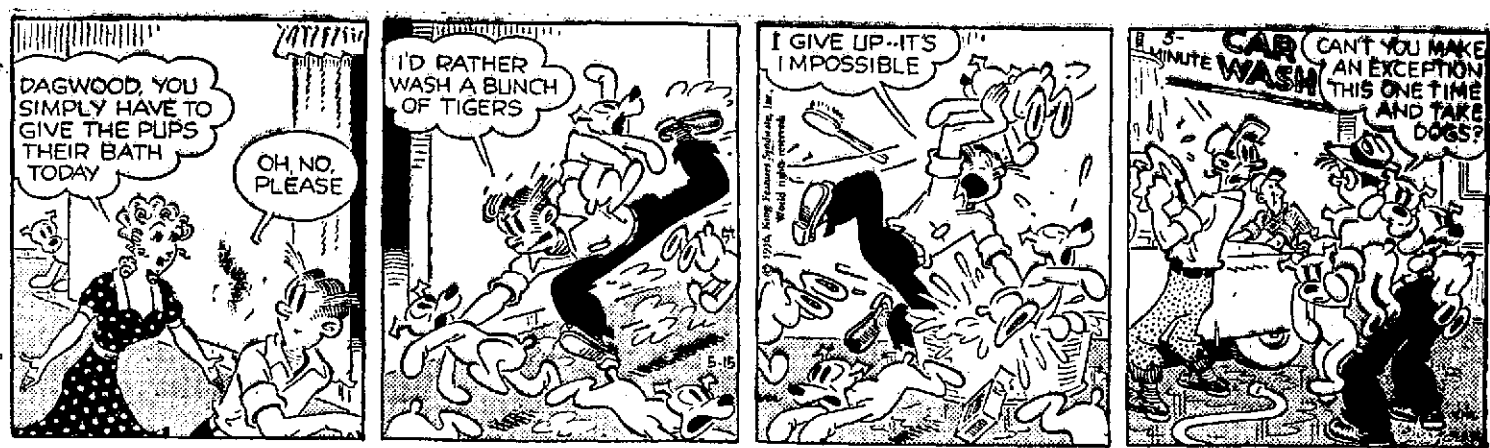

This new production machinery and new construction, except for raw materials handling equipment, is the equivalent of a brand new cement plant for Arkansas to be integrated with Ideal's present plant!

GOOD NEWS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY

The new kiln and mills will bring 1,478,000 more barrels of cement to cement users in Arkansas, northern Louisiana, northeast Texas, and southeast Oklahoma. This additional capacity will end the cement shortage in these areas. The equipment is here now—it is not waiting to be ordered or delivered—it will provide additional cement without disturbing or interrupting present production.

You Can Count on IDEAL for ACTION in the Production of Quality Portland Cement for America's Construction Needs!

CHAPTER XXXII

Basil Willing felt a twinge of pity for John Hazard and Byrd Cushing as he read on:
"The widow must have agreed to come across the river and identify the man. The sentry manning the telescope confirmed this at most at once. There was a great hustling about in the Mexican village, he told all of us anxiously thronged around him, and a pro-

Rhee Certain to Win in Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — A big turnout of some nine million South Koreans voted today for a president and vice president. President Syngman Rhee, opposed by an ex-Communist and a dead man, appeared certain to win a third four-year term.

Only scattered minor violence was reported across the country, in contrast to hectic pre-election riots and fights which killed at least one demonstrator and sent Rhee's living opponent into hiding. The polls closed at 5 p. m. and first returns were not expected until early tomorrow. The outcome should be definite within two days. Rhee, 81 and the only president Korean has ever had, voted with his Austrian-born wife as soon as the polls opened at 7 a. m.

STOLEN ACCORDIONS

cession of carriages and mounted men seemed to be forming. By 11:30, we could see them coming down the road to the river clearly with the naked eye. Three carriages escorted by a dozen or more mounted rurales.

"I shan't waste any words, Allie, trying to tell you how I felt as that procession drew nearer and we were ordered to line up in our fatigues. Byrd Cushing and I were separated in the line-up, but his face was utterly blank when I could see it. Possibly a little more glitter in his eyes, a little more defiance in his stance, but that was all.

"The hot sun beat down on us as we stood at attention on the edge of the cliff and watched that procession approach the ford on the Mexican side. I think every soldier in the line was wondering the same thing: What would happen if she points a finger at me? It could happen. Suppose she didn't recognize the man after all? Suppose there had not really been an American soldier as she claimed? Or suppose she were in love with him and picked another man at random because she was being forced to do so?

"Every soldier in the line except Byrd and me wondered and worried. Those were not the questions that were bothering us. We knew what had happened.

"We could see a woman now in the back seat of the leading carriage, a surrey. A uniformed rurales drove it. A black-robed priest sat beside the woman. It was impossible to tell at that distance whether she was the woman we had seen or not.

"The procession approached the river.

"Two mounted rurales preceded the carriage into the water. On our side, our captain and two civilians from Washington waited to meet them and bring them up to the camp.

"The surrey went down the slope to the stretch of sand at the water's edge and came to an abrupt halt.

"The woman leapt out. She lifted her face up just once to the line of 80 blue-garbed men on the cliff above. . . and then she turned away from the river.

"The priest followed the woman away. He touched her arm. Mounted men closed in around them and frock-coated Mexican officials clambered down from other carriages to join in the discussion which raged around the woman. "Apparently she didn't want to go further.

"They gestured and argued. First one officer then another would talk to the woman. She gestured and talked back. I saw her head move, but I couldn't tell at that distance whether she was nodding it, shaking it or simply moving her head because she shouted. It was the worst torture I ever endured.

"We soldiers lined up on the other side of the river. couldn't hear a word that was said, of course. We could only stand there and watch the scene and try to guess what was happening. I suppose the discussion lasted 20 minutes, although it seemed like 20 years to me. Then the group disintegrated. The priest led the woman back to her surrey and it turned around and started back up the road to the village.

"Our captain returned from the place where he had waited at the water's edge and ordered the first sergeant to dismiss the troop.

"Neither Byrd nor I had the faintest idea what had made the woman change her mind, but we talked it over, as soon as we got a chance to be alone together.

"I suppose her nerve failed," he said soberly. "When it came to the decisive moment, she just couldn't bring herself to accuse me of shooting her husband, when she knew she had shot him herself. Maybe she told the priest she hadn't seen the murderer clearly enough to make any identification. Or maybe the priest himself suspected she was guilty and urged her not to accuse any man unless she was certain of that man's guilt. Maybe she doesn't know about ballistics and what she said about me, I could never accuse her and hope to be believed once they compared my gun barrel with the bullet."

Basil Willing paused in his reading to flip through the remaining pages. He wondered if it would be possible to skip to the end. Then he shook his head. "I must read it all," he said.

He settled down in his chair. (To Be Continued)
